

BRANDES GLOBAL OPPORTUNITIES VALUE FUND

Supplement dated May 10, 2019 to Summary Prospectus dated January 31, 2019

Brandes Investment Partners, L.P., the Advisor to the Brandes Global Opportunities Value Fund (the “Fund”), has recommended, and the Board of Trustees of Brandes Investment Trust has approved, the liquidation and termination of the Fund. The Advisor’s recommendation was primarily based on the fact that the Fund is not economically viable at its present size, and the Advisor did not anticipate that the Fund would experience meaningful growth in the foreseeable future. The liquidation is expected to occur on June 28, 2019. Pending liquidation of the Fund, investors will continue to be able to reinvest dividends received in the Fund.

Effective May 13, 2019, the Fund will no longer accept purchases of new shares. Beginning June 21, 2019, the Fund’s assets will be converted into cash and cash equivalents, as a result the Fund will no longer pursue its stated investment objective and policies effective June 21, 2019. Shareholders of the Fund may redeem their investments as described in the Fund’s Prospectus. Accounts not redeemed by June 28, 2019, will automatically be closed and liquidating distributions, less any required tax withholdings, will be sent to the address of record.

If you hold your shares in an IRA account directly with U.S. Bank N.A., you have 60 days from the date you receive your proceeds to reinvest your proceeds into another IRA account and maintain their tax-deferred status. You must notify the Fund or your financial advisor prior to June 28, 2019 of your intent to reinvest your IRA account to avoid withholding deductions from your proceeds.

Please contact the Fund at (800) 395-3807 or your financial advisor if you have questions or need assistance.

Please retain this Supplement with the Summary Prospectus.

Example

This Example is intended to help you compare the costs of investing in the Global Opportunities Value Fund with the cost of investing in other mutual funds. The Example assumes that you invest $10,000 in the Fund for the time periods indicated and then redeem all of your shares at the end of those periods. The Example also assumes that your investment has a 5% return each year and that the Fund's operating expenses remain the same (taking into account the contractual expense limitation for one year). Although your actual costs may be higher or lower, based on these assumptions your costs would be:

	1 Year	3 Years	5 Years	10 Years
Class A	$709	$1,088	$1,491	$2,613
Class C	$318	$774	$1,356	$2,937
Class I	$117	$480	$867	$1,953
Class R6	$99	$452	$829	$1,887

You would pay the following expenses if you did not redeem your Class C shares:

	1 Year	3 Years	5 Years	10 Years
Class C	$218	$774	$1,356	$2,937

Portfolio Turnover

The Global Opportunities Value Fund pays transaction costs, such as commissions, when it buys and sells securities (or “turns over” its portfolio). A higher portfolio turnover rate may indicate higher transaction costs and may result in higher taxes when Fund shares are held in a taxable account. These costs, which are not reflected in annual fund operating expenses or in the example, affect the Fund’s performance. During the most recent fiscal year, the Fund’s portfolio turnover rate was 29.12%.

Principal Investment Strategies

The Global Opportunities Value Fund invests primarily in equity securities of U.S. and foreign companies. The Fund may invest in companies with market capitalizations (market value of publicly traded equity securities) of any size. A foreign company is determined to be “foreign” on the basis of its domicile, its principal place of business, its primary stock exchange listing, and/or the source of its revenues. Equity securities include common and preferred stocks, warrants and rights. The Fund may invest up to 40% of the Fund’s total assets, measured at the time of purchase, in securities of companies located in emerging market countries (including frontier market countries). The Fund may invest up to 5% of its total assets, measured at the time of purchase, in any one company. From time to time, the Fund may invest more than 25% of its assets in any market sector. However, as of September 30, 2018, the Fund did not invest in excess of 25% in any sector.

The Global Opportunities Value Fund may invest in companies located around the world. With respect to Fund investments in any particular country, the Fund may invest up to the greater of either (a) 25% of its total assets measured at the time of purchase, or (b) 300% of the weighting of such country as represented in the Morgan Stanley Capital International All Country World (“MSCI ACWI”) Index, measured at the time of purchase. The Global Opportunities Value Fund will invest in at least three different countries, and invest at least 40% of its total assets (measured at the time of purchase) outside of the United States or, if conditions are not favorable, invest at least 30% of its total assets (measured at the time of purchase) outside of the United States. For example, if the Advisor determines that non-U.S. markets are generally overvalued compared to U.S. markets, the Fund may invest up to 70% of its total assets within the United States.

The Global Opportunities Value Fund may invest from time to time in cash or short-term cash equivalent securities either as part of its overall investment strategy or for temporary defensive purposes in response to adverse market, economic, political or other conditions which in the Advisor’s discretion require investments inconsistent with the Fund’s principal investment strategies. The amount of such holdings will vary and will depend on the Advisor’s assessment of the quantity and quality of investment opportunities that exist at any given time, and may at times be relatively high.

Brandes Investment Partners, L.P., the Global Opportunities Value Fund’s investment advisor (the “Advisor”), uses the principles of value investing to analyze and select equity securities for the Fund’s investment portfolio. When buying equity securities, the Advisor assesses the estimated “intrinsic” value of a company based on data such as a company’s earnings, cash flow generation, and/or asset value of the underlying business. By choosing securities that are selling at a discount to the Advisor’s estimates of the underlying company’s intrinsic value, the Advisor seeks to establish an opportunity for long-term capital appreciation. The Advisor may sell a security when its price reaches the Advisor’s estimate of the underlying company’s intrinsic value, or the Advisor believes that other investments are more attractive, or for other reasons.

Principal Investment Risks

Because the values of the Global Opportunities Value Fund's investments will fluctuate with market conditions, so will the value of your investment in the Fund. You could lose money on your investment in the Fund, or the Fund could underperform other investments. Principal risks in alphabetical order of the Fund are as follows:

- Currency Risk – Because the Global Opportunities Value Fund invests in securities denominated in foreign currencies, the U.S. dollar values of its investments fluctuate as a result of changes in foreign exchange rates. Such changes will also affect the Fund's income.
- Emerging Markets Risk – Emerging markets may involve greater risk and volatility than more developed markets. Some emerging markets countries may have fixed or managed currencies that are not free-floating against the U.S. dollar. Certain of these currencies have experienced, and may experience in the future, substantial fluctuations or a steady devaluation relative to the U.S. dollar. Certain emerging markets are sometimes referred to as “frontier markets.” Frontier markets, the least advanced capital markets in the developing world, are the riskiest markets in the world in which to invest. Frontier markets have the least number of investors and investment holdings and may not even have stock markets on which to trade. Investments in these markets are typically illiquid, nontransparent and subject to very low regulation levels as well as high transaction fees, and may also have substantial political and currency risk.
- Focused Investing Risk – The Fund may, from time to time, invest a substantial portion of the total value of its assets in securities of issuers located in a particular industry, sector, country or geographic region. During such periods, the Fund may be more susceptible to risks associated with that industry, sector, country or region.
- Foreign Securities Risk – The performance of foreign securities depends on the political and economic environments and other overall economic conditions in the countries where the Global Opportunities Value Fund invests. The interrelationships of the global economies, volatility or threats to stability of any significant currency, such as occurred in the past with the European Monetary Union, or significant political instability of any country or region, may affect other markets and the value of an investment in the Fund.
- Mid and Small-Capitalization Company Risk – Securities of mid-capitalization and small-capitalization companies may have comparatively greater price volatility and less liquidity than the securities of companies that have larger market capitalizations and/or that are traded on major stock exchanges. These securities may also be more difficult to value.
- Stock Risk – The values of the Global Opportunities Value Fund's investments fluctuate, sometimes rapidly and unpredictably, in response to the activities and perceptions of individual companies and general stock market and economic conditions.
- Value Securities Risk – The Global Opportunities Value Fund invests in value securities, which are securities the Advisor believes are undervalued for various reasons, including but not limited to adverse business, industry or other developments, or are subject to special risks, or limited market understanding of the issuer's business or industry, that have caused the securities to be out of favor. It may take longer than expected for the prices of these securities to increase to the anticipated value, or they may never increase to that value or may decline. In addition, value securities, at times, may not perform as well as growth securities or the stock market in general, and may be out of favor with investors for varying periods of time.

- Value Style Risk – Value style of investing may cause the Fund’s performance to deviate from the performance of market benchmarks and other managers for substantial periods of time.
