Where Shares are subscribed through a Distributor or any other intermediary, investors should submit subscription, redemption or exchange orders to the Distributor or intermediary by such time as agreed with the Distributor or intermediary so that the latter can send it to the Administrator prior to the relevant Dealing Deadline. Subject to the information above in relation to applications received by the Administrator from the Distributors or intermediaries, applications received after the Dealing Deadline for the relevant Dealing Day shall be held in abeyance until the next Dealing Day unless the Company and Administrator otherwise agree provided that any such late application is received prior to the point in time at which the sub-fund’s investments are valued and the net asset value per share is determined.

Subscription, redemption and exchange requests received and accepted by the Administrator prior to the Dealing Deadline on a Dealing Day will be issued/redeemed/exchanged at a price equal to the net asset value per share of the relevant class plus any applicable sales, subscription or switching charge/less any applicable redemption fee.

The subscription of shares during the initial period in which a certain class of shares is offered will be at the initial issue price (as set out in the supplement for the relevant sub-fund) plus any applicable sales or subscription charge.

The Company normally pays redemption proceeds (net of all expenses and deductions, if applicable) for the shares within three Business Days of receipt and acceptance of the redemption order (and in any event within 10 Business Days of receipt and acceptance of a redemption order) provided that all relevant documentation has been received by the Administrator.

7. Minimum initial subscription

The minimum initial investment amount for Class A Shares is USD 10,000 (or the currency equivalent).

The Directors of the Company may waive the above mentioned minimum subscription requirement in individual cases.

8. Tax aspects for Belgian tax residents

The information below is a summary of the tax regime applicable to private investors-physical persons resident in Belgium. The tax regime may differ depending on the individual circumstances of each investor and may fluctuate.

Physical persons who are Belgian residents for tax purposes, i.e., who are subject to the Belgian personal income tax and who hold the shares as a private investment, are in Belgium subject to the following tax treatment with respect to the shares. Other tax rules apply to Belgian resident individuals who do not hold the shares as a private investment.

Investors are invited to contact the Intermediary to obtain information on the tax regime referred to in this section that applies to them depending on the investment they envisage making and, where applicable, on the sub-fund of the Company in which they wish to invest.

8.1 Taxation on capital gains

Principle

As at the date of this country supplement, private investors-physical persons are not taxed on capital gains realised upon redemption or sale of shares in the Company or upon the complete or partial distribution/liquidation of the Company's assets.

However, unless unexpected event, this regime will be amended in the course of the year 2026 with retroactive effect to January 1st, 2026¹. It is expected that the portion of the capital gain that is not subject to withholding tax on collective investment funds will be subject to a 10% tax on capital gains if the taxpayer has realized, on an annual basis, more than the exempt amount of capital gains. Capital losses realized during the same taxable period will be deductible.

Exceptions

Natural persons are subject to a Belgian withholding tax of 30% on the capital gains generated by the redemption or sale of the shares of any fund investing (or permitted to invest) directly or indirectly more than 10% in interest bearing assets (25% for Shares purchased prior to 1 January 2018), up to the percentage actually invested in such assets. This tax also applies upon the complete or partial distribution/liquidation of the Company's assets. The taxable amount of income is equal to all income derived directly or indirectly, in the form of interest, capital gains or capital losses, from the return on assets invested in interest bearing assets during the period in which the investor held the shares of the respective sub-fund.

¹ The draft law is pending in Parliament (Doc. parl., Chambre, 2025-2026, n° 56-1244/001).

Investors are invited to contact the Intermediary to obtain information on the tax regime referred to in this section that applies to them depending on the investment they envisage making and, where applicable, on the sub-fund of the Company in which they wish to invest.

8.2 Taxation on dividends

Investors (natural persons) are subject to a Belgian tax of 30% on the distribution of dividends/interests.

8.2.1 Belgian paying agent

If the dividends/interests are paid by a paying agent established in Belgium, the taxes will be withheld after deduction of any non-Belgian withholding taxes. The Belgian withholding tax constitutes the final income tax for Belgian resident individuals. This means that they do not have to declare the dividends/interests obtained on the shares in their personal income tax return, provided withholding tax was levied on these payments. They may nevertheless elect to declare dividends/interest in respect of the shares in their personal income tax return. If the interest payment is declared, any withholding tax retained may be credited.

8.2.2 No Belgian paying agent

If dividends/interests are paid outside Belgium without the intervention of a Belgian financial intermediary, the dividends/interests received (after deduction of any non-Belgian withholding tax) must be declared in the personal income tax return. Interest income which is declared in the annual personal income tax return will in principle be taxed at a flat rate of 30% (or at the progressive personal tax rate taking into account the taxpayer's other declared income, whichever is more beneficial).

8.3 The discharging effect of the withholding tax

When the income has been subject to withholding tax in Belgium, such withholding tax has a discharging effect, meaning that the investor does not have to report such income in his yearly personal income tax return. If the income has not been subject to withholding tax in Belgium, the investor has to declare such income in his yearly personal income tax return, and will be taxed at the flat rate of 30%.

8.4 Subscription tax on securities account

According to the tax on securities accounts (“TSA”) that was introduced by the law dated 17 February 2021, an annual subscription tax of 0.15% is levied on securities accounts when the average value of the assets held in the securities account amounts to more than EUR 1,000,000 (or the equivalent in EUR in case not all securities are denominated in EUR) during the reference period. The tax is levied on the average value of the assets held in the securities account that exceeds the EUR 1,000,000 threshold and is limited to 10% of the difference between the average value and the threshold of EUR 1,000,000.

The TSA is applicable to securities accounts held both in Belgium and abroad when the account holder is a Belgian resident. The tax is not limited to natural persons residing in Belgium, but also applies to companies and legal entities subject to the tax for legal entities that are established in Belgium. Furthermore, the TSA is applicable to securities accounts held by non-Belgian residents (both natural persons and legal persons) when the securities account is held in Belgium through a Belgian intermediary.

In principle, the reference period starts on 1 October and ends on 30 September of the following year. The threshold of EUR 1,000,000 is assessed on the average value of the assets in the securities account at 4 reference points within the reference period (31 December, 31 March, 30 June and 30 September).

The tax is normally withheld by the (Belgian) financial institution holding the securities account. In relation with foreign securities accounts, the investor must file a tax declaration and pay the tax himself in case the tax has not been withheld.

Please contact your tax advisor for further information.

Important warning: unless unexpected event, due to announced legislative amendments, the tax rate will amount 0.30% with retroactive effect to the period starting on 1 October 2025 and ending on 30 September 2026, and the following tax periods.

8.5 Other taxes

A stock exchange tax is levied, amongst other things, on the redemption and exchange of accumulation shares where these transactions are entered into in Belgium, deemed to be entered into Belgium (which is the case if the investor is a Belgian tax resident) or effected through a Belgian financial intermediary. Both upon redemption and upon exchange of accumulation shares the stock exchange tax amounts to 1.32% of the net asset value per share (with a maximum of EUR 4,000 per transaction).

9. Ownership of shares and nominee structures

The law governing the relationships between nominee-investors and the nominee is, in principle, Belgian law. The nominee must comply with the FSMA's Circular OPC 4/2007 regarding nominee services.
